Will Affect Grain.

Ottawa, Aug. 20.—The effect of the opening of the Panama Canal upon Canadian Transcontinental traffic is a subject which will be treated in the annual report of the department of public works, the question being a subject for investigation by government officials at present. One of the most important questions under investigation has been the effect of the passing through a tropical climate of western grain what will have, there being some fear expressed of rotting. It is further stated that weevil is liable to develop in the transport. Should these dangers prove to be of any considerable importance it would appear that the opening of the big ditch will have little effect upon transcontinental traffic.

Crop Rotation.

There has recently been received from Ottawa a pamphlet on crop rotation and soil cultivation. It embodies an advice delivered by J. H. Grisdale, director of experimental farms during the past session of parliament before the standing committee of the senate on agriculture and colonization.

At the outset the point is made that crop rotation depends on soil and soil management. The pamphlet then goes on to deal with soil functions, requirements of crops, rotation, cultivation, moisture, warmth, plant food, cultural operations and implements. These subjects are sub-divided into the field of successful crop growing is well covered.

Under crop rotations, seven are described and explained. The three year rotation—hard crop, grain, hay—is highly recommended, more especially for farms that include considerable areas of rough land fit for pasture, but not available for crop production. Farms that are mostly arable are better served by a four year course which adds one year's pasture to the three year rotation mentioned.

Any of the seven rotations described, if carefully followed and the cultural operations therewith performed at the right time and in the right way, are claimed by the author to increase tremendously the crop production of any given farm and at the same time increase but slightly, if at all, the cost of production. This pamphlet, which covers thirteen pages, is available to all who apply for it to the Publication Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Town Council.

A meeting of the Town Council was held on August 20th in the Secretary's Drawing Room—Mayor Deane presiding. The following accounts were read—Alberta Government Telephone Co., $1.45; Trading Co., envelopes and nails, $1.50; Review, printing week notices, $5.25; C. H. Bell, draying, $5.00. The above were recommended to be paid.

The following committee handed in their estimates for the ensuing year:—Police Department—Salary, $750.00; uniform, $75.00; Total $825.00.

Fire Department—Fire Bell, $50; lock and ladder wagon, etc., $120; truck, $180; P.R. water account 1911-1912, $200; Total $770.

By-law committee—Printing By-laws, $150; publishing by-laws, $200; miscellaneous expenses, $100. Total $450.

Public Works Committee—Improvements to public park, $500; streets improvements, $250; sidewalks, $200; concrete city sidewalks, $200. Total $1,150.

Finance—Safe, $200; Secretary's salary, balance of 1912, $200; secretary's approximate salary for 1913, $200; auditor, 1912, $200; ditto for 1913, $200; present indebtedness current, $1500; provisions for interest on foreclosing and old village debt, $200; health committee, $150; incidentals, $175.00. Total $5575.00.

The tax-rate by-law was then read a third time, the rate being fixed at 18 mills.

Public Meeting

A public meeting of all those interested in Bow Island being represented at the Bow Farming Congress will be held in the L.O.O.F. hall on Wednesday, August 28th. The meeting will be called to order at 8 p.m. sharp.

It is particularly requested that a large and representative body of the business men of the town and farmers be present. The matter of sending an exhibit to Lethbridge, in 1913, is one that affects us all and consequently more than the usual amount of interest should be displayed in the meeting.

Bow Island this year stands pre-eminently above all others with its wheat, barley, flax and other farm products, and a exhibit worthy of the district could easily be produced.

If you are interested in seeing this district represented at the Congress make it your business to be present.

Death of Gen. Booth

London, Aug. 20.—General Booth, Commander-in-Chief of the Salvation Army, whose health has been falling ever since he was operated on in May last for the removal of a cataract on his left eye, is rapidly becoming weaker.

According to the bulletin issued this morning by the physicians in attendance, General Booth's condition gives rise to increased anxiety. Many of the General's relatives and high officials of the Salvation Army are in attendance or in close touch with the sick chamber.

Toronto, Aug. 20.—"The General has taken a turn for the worse. The doctors have given up all hopes of recovering. Expected to pass away at any time."

This bulletin was cabled to the Salvation Army headquarters, Toronto, this morning, the message having been despatched by Benjamin Booth, chief of the staff of the general, who is expected to succeed his father in the management of the army's affairs.

Col. Napier, chief secretary for Canada in Canada, immediately transmitted the bulletin with a request for special prayer: "Pray for our beloved general that he may have at this time a special measure of God's comforting and sustaining presence and that peace may be his in a very large degree."

London, Aug. 20.—The Rev. William Booth, General and Commander-in-Chief of the Salvation Army, passed away at 10.10 o'clock to-night. He was born at Nottingham in 1829. The veteran Salvation Army leader was more than 80 years prior to his death.

THE BOW ISLAND REVIEW.

BOW ISLAND
Alberta

The principle of community building has been placed upon a footing in Western Canada with the necessities to growth and expansion. Briefly it is the principle which leads the residents of a city, town or community to organize and unite for the purpose of adding to and increasing the prosperity of the community in which they live. The usual procedure is to make known to as many people as possible the advantages of living and doing business in their particular town, to attract to the community as many industries and business houses as possible and to make the dwellers in the place feel and appreciate the advantages of living there. The increase of population brings business, which in itself increases the population, the one adding to and increasing the volume of the other by natural law. The results of this movement for betterment and increase in the towns and cities has borne much fruit and it is safe to emphasize the statement that the community builder is a necessity. These movements have taken and will take a most important place in the history of the West.

The greatest factor in these movements is not the money involved nor the individual work and effort contributed. It is no such tangible materials as these—it is a spirit. It is a spirit of willingness to help in the march toward general improvement and growth, a spirit that is willing to make some sacrifice of private aims and efforts to add to the mutual good of the people of the community. It is the spirit that has as its fundamental principle the belief that the town we live in is the best town in the west, that spreads that belief and makes a slogan of it, that hammers it into neighbor and stranger alike and that leads the man who holds it to take hold of the work of bettering his community with vim and enthusiasm.

Let us look at this town, helping principle from a business standpoint. What will it do for you, Mr. General Storekeeper, and you Mr. Hardware Dealer? Will it put you in dollars and cents for the time and money you put into it?

In the first place it will teach the people of the town to take an interest in the affairs of the town, to believe that what is for the good of the town's merchants is for the good of the town in general and for their own good in particular.

The Canadian Car and Foundry Company has just received from the Canadian Pacific railway a six million dollar order for seven thousand steel box cars to be delivered during the first half of next year.

earth didn't you say so? answered the farmer. I am taking the local paper but have never seen a line about you selling these goods. The Winnipeg house sent advertising matter to me asking for my trade and they got it"—Ex.

In a city not far from here there is a local retail merchants' association that has taken up a boy-at-home campaign, seeking to do a stroke for themselves and for local manufacturers against the competition of outside concerns. The association has just issued a list of reasons "Why I buy at home," which is right to the point and applicable to any city. Here is the list.

Because my interests are here.
Because the community that is good enough to live in is good enough to buy in.

Because I believe in transacting business with my friends.
Because I want to get the goods.
Because I want to get what I buy when I pay for it.

Because my home dealer carries me when I run short.

Because every dollar I spend at home stays at home and works for the welfare of the city.

Because the man I buy from stands back of the goods.

Because I sell what I produce here at home.

Because the man I buy from pays his part of the local taxes.

Because the man I buy from gives you the best of the local goods.

Because the man I buy from helps support my school, my church, my lodge, my home.

Because when I buy, misfortune or bereavement comes, the man I buy from is here with a kindly greeting, his goods of cheer and his pocket-book if need be.

Here I live and here I buy.

All this is admittedly good, yet the local newspaper officer that is always trying to promote home buying gets an occasional black eye from some of the home merchants. For instance the paper says when a patron for a printing concern in another town received orders from some of our merchants for envelopes, letterheads, etc., These same merchants who were ordered for printed envelopes to an outside concern, would kick long, hard and with vengeance against anybody going out of town for goods. They sell over their counters. When these merchants kick again let them remember the golden rule applies all about the line.

NERVES AT HIGH TENSION

Necessary in This Age of Keen Competition and Great Accomplishment

When the Body Fails to Support the Brain See the Help of

DR CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

Nervous people are the salt of the earth. The great men and great women are usually those of nervous temperament.

But it takes an enormous quantity of great brain of a highly tensioned nervous system.

Depression falls because nerve force is lacking to control the flow of digestive fluids. A little extra excitement is followed by the agony of sleepless night. You are easily irritated and lose patience you lack the reserve force which is necessary for success and to ward off disease.

Unfortunately nervous diseases do not think themselves and since your digestive system fails to supply the material for the nerve force, you must seek external assistance.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. This great food is not a narcotic to deaden the nerve, it is not a stimulant to whip up the nerves to renewed effort.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food feeds the wasted nerves and builds up the system. It feeds the nervous system with new rich blood, the balance of the system can be made. It costs $2.50 at all dealers or follow us, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Severely Logical

It was a Welsh minister who described the devil to a little congregation in a remote Welsh valley.

"The devil is bound round the middle with chains, and round the waist with chains, and round the legs with chains. But John Jones, pointing to a man in the front row, said: 'Can't reach you, my friend.'"

And then a man in the gallery called out: "Why he might as well be loose."—London Echo.

Minard's Liment used by Physicians

Talk all Day

"Do you," said the learned count, "saw that you will tell me truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth?"

"Oh, how lovely!" the fair waitress interrupted. "I'll tell you what I want to talk all the afternoon if I want to!"

Written Excuses

The teacher of a kindergarten class was asked to excuse a child who had been charged to bring written excuses from home in case they had missed the school.

After a big sigh, which kept him of the youngest, he said: "I have brought perfunctory explanations of their mother's absence. The child was told to leave a letter with him the next day."

"Dear Madam: Willie's legs it is. The snow and the snow was two feet high."—Youra, etc.

Examiner: Now, suppose you found a man on the street so intoxicated he couldn't stand up, what would you do?

Ans: I would treat him as a rat. I'd think he had treated him, and let it go home and sleep it off.—New York World.

Will: "The night of an old school mate is—er—well, it might be called a love and drink night."

Bertha: "Yes, that's what you mean usually do in the circumstances."—"Glean."

Oil Is Money

The oil business when properly handled is the safest business in the world. The returns from it are much larger and quicker than those from any other source of investment.

The farmer produces from one to two crops per year, and his profits are small. The oil producer produces from one to two crops per year, and his profits are large.

Producing oil with a small capital of $10,000 will give you a steady income of $10,000 per year. The oil producer produces from one to two crops per year, and his profits are large.

The merchant and manufacturer must continually invest his money in order to keep his business from going to the wall.

ABOUT PAPER MONEY

Machines That Grinds Paper Dry and then Stores it in Bags.

At the greatest difficulty which people meet with in regard to paper money is that of being able to keep them. It will probably come as a surprise to many to learn there are great efforts for whom the difficulty is not in destroying the paper but in illustrating in very interesting articles upon paper destruction by the Canadian Imperial Bank.

The methods previously available were—burning, boiling and pulping. In the first process it has been found that even when the pulp for paper has been used it has not taken enough to keep the paper from being damaged.

The second process, which was to destroy the paper by burning, was also found to be unsatisfactory. The paper was not completely destroyed, and the residue was still valuable.

The third process, which was to destroy the paper by boiling and pulping, was also found to be unsatisfactory. The paper was not completely destroyed, and the residue was still valuable.

David Marston's Rival

There is a shrewd old farmer in Chenango county, New York, whose name for driving a shrewd horse trade rivals that of David Marston.

"What'd it for that old bay?" a friend asked him the other day.

"Well," said the old trader, after consulting for a moment, "I don't get what I called it would, but I'll tell you."

"I'll tell you," said the old trader, "I'll tell you."

"I'll tell you," said the old trader, "I'll tell you."

"I'll tell you," said the old trader, "I'll tell you."
